HELP KEEP COMANCHE UNDERWAY

One of the last WWII museum ships in the world still moving under her own power — crewed entirely by volunteers on Puget Sound.

WHY IT MATTERS

A LIVING SHIP, NOT A STATIC EXHIBIT

Built in 1944 as a Navy ocean tug and later a Coast Guard cutter, Comanche is today a floating classroom for maritime history, hands-on trades and youth mentorship — and she still gets underway for community events and partner cruises.

$100

PER MILE UNDERWAY

$250

PER DAY AT THE PIER

Those are bare operating costs — fuel, moorage, consumables. Nothing in them for the maintenance, haul-out and insurance an 80-year-old ship needs. That is what your gift covers.

Every dollar goes to the ship. Scan the code, or give at tug202.org.
